Be loyal to your Guru and to the path prescribed by Him. Steadiness of faith and devotion is the key to success. When others come and advance their doctrines, you should not waver in your faith. Your mind should be strong and steady.
-Divine Mother Sree Rama Devi (Bulletin No 24)

AMRUTHAVANI

Beloved children,

You, householders, have to live amidst family affinities and obligatory duties. Temptations, scope for attachments, situations that make one forget God; these are in plenty when you live in the world. Holding Mother's teaching as the lamp, you should go ahead, developing adhyatmic force through devotion and anushtana. The dharma of Garhasthya is the base of a strong social structure. Home must become a temple, a hermitage and a spiritual laboratory, all combined. Centred in home, your spiritual life should become a springboard to universal vision. Bearing this in mind, you should live unattached, with your mind always fixed on God-remembrance

*Love and blessings
Rama Devi*

And, that gift which is made with a view to receive something in return, or looking for a reward, or given reluctantly, is said to be Rajasic.

TEACHINGS OF POOJYA SREE BHAGAWAN

We have to try to see Divine Mother in Her Vighraha. She is as close to you as your own mother. Have love for Her. When your love becomes intense and you want Her desperately, She comes in Her real Form. Some devotees have seen Mother at their last moment. She has appeared to some in their sleep. So let us think of Mother and celebrate Her with us.

We are born of Mother and She manifested before us when we think intensely of Her. We have to go back to Her and be freed from birth and death. She is ready to receive us with open arms.

DIVINE DREAM

-T. N. Gopinathan Nayar (Trivandrum)

Once I suddenly fell ill with severe pain in my stomach. I found it difficult to breathe properly. Immediately my sons, Ravi and Nandan, took me to my brother-in-law Dr. P. V. Nair. Fortunately, his son, Dr. T. V. G. Nair, was also present there. In their presence, I vomited. Dr. T. V. G. Nair sensed that the root cause for the stomach pain and the trouble in breathing was something serious. Immediately he brought an expert Dr. P. P. Joseph from the Medical College. It was nearing midnight.

As per his advice, I was removed to the Medical College Hospital that night itself. Fortunately, my pain subsided and I slept. The X-Ray photos indicated a slight shade at the bottom of the right lung.

A portrait of Divine Mother was placed on the table and I derived much strength and consolation. Whenever I was free of visitors I used to chant Her Nama Manthra. One day, during my afternoon siesta, I had a dream. It was a scene from Shaktinagar Campus. I saw my aunt Mrs. T. N. K. Nayar, and Tarakka, the respected President of the Mission. I saw my aunt rushing to Tarakka and telling her: "Tarakka, Gopi is very ill, undergoing treatment in the hospital. Please inform Divine Mother." I heard clearly the words of Tarakka: "Don't you know? Mother is not here. She has already gone to Trivandrum."

Dream gave me immeasurable strength. That afternoon, a T. B. expert pierced needles in my chest and later ruled out the presence of pleurisy in the lung. (see next page also)

Mahatma Gandhi

3. Experience is the child of thought, and thought is the child of action.

Benjamin Disraeli

4. Don't wait for extraordinary opportunities. Seize common occasions and make them great.

Orison Swett Marden

5. No great man ever complains of want of opportunities.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

John Gardner

DIVINE DREAM(contd..)

-T. N. Gopinathan Nayar (Trivandrum)

Though the beloved Mother has become the Formless Reality, Her luminous, love-inspiring Image of love will continue to shine radiant in my heart and in the hearts of thousands of devotees like me. O Mother Divine, the beloved Mother of all, let the life of this child become a fitting homage to Thee.

PEARLS FROM MOTHER'S LIPS

1. Repentance does not come to all. Real repentance itself is a kind of awakening. Once it comes the jiva does not repeat his old folly. His mind is set once for all towards the ideals of purity and sinlessness.

2. When purification comes, the external gaze that rests on form, qualities and personality, is replaced by the divine gaze. The divine gaze perceives only the presence of God, His power, His beauty and His qualities

3. Knowledge coming from divine grace, alone can save.

Mahavatar Babaji

Mahavatar Babaji is the name given to an Indian saint by Shyāmacharan Lahiri and several of his disciples[1] who met Mahavatar Babaji between 1861 and 1935. Some of these meetings were described by Paramahansa Yogananda in his book Autobiography of a Yogi, including a first hand telling of Yogananda's own meeting with Mahavatar Babaji.[2] Another first hand account was given by Yukteswar Giri in his book The Holy Science.[3] All of these accounts, along with additional meetings with Mahavatar Babaji, are described in various biographies[4][5][6] of those mentioned by Yogananda.

Mahavatar Babaji's given name is unknown, so those who met him during that period all called him by the title first given to him by Lahiri.[2][6] "Mahavatar" means "great avatar", and "Babaji" simply means "revered father". Some of the encounters included two or more witnesses—discussions between those who met Mahavatar Babaji indicate that they all met the same person.

In his autobiography Apprenticed to a Himalayan master: a yogi's autobiography (2010), Sri M (Mumtaz Ali) narrates his meeting with Babaji near Neelkant hill.[17] In his book, Sri M gave description of Babaji as golden complexioned, bare-bodied, except for a shining white loin cloth that barely reached the knees, and flowing brown hair that fell to his shoulders. He mentioned that a lovely scent emanated from Babaji and he looked divine.
