AMRUTHAVANI

Beloved children,

Life devoted to paramartha is a disciplined, purposeful, carefree and blissful life. The Grace of the Guru and the Guru's teaching illumines the path. The journey is propelled by a strong urge for perfection, for moral excellence, for peace and for release from shackles of mind-made illusions and bonds. For one in the line of paramartha, God is the pivot of life. God is the plank of support. God is the source of comfort, strength, courage and inward illumination. Hence he is always at peace with himself and the world.

EXISTENCE OF GOD

Some people themselves as atheists who donot believe in the existence of God. And they try to convince about their point of view. But if God were non existent why should anyone conceive of him at all try to negate as atheists do. The very fact that atheists have a conception of God at all proves that they have accepted His existence which they are trying to deny. Divine Mother used to welcome atheists because their minds are like clean slates on which whatever one writes is very clear.

DIVINE LOVE IN ITS PUREST FORM.

---Sri P. Parameswaran Nair, Trivandrum

(Sri.P.Parameswaran Nair expired on 2-9-2014)

During Mother's visit to Trivandrum in 1953, I walked in casually one evening, when Mother was in the middle of a discourse. Her first words which fell into my ears where a direct answer to a doubt that was haunting me at the time. They illumined a dark corner in my mind. She had spoken out of context. Yet, I thought it was only a coincidence. Later I gathered, that many others had similar experiences; when Mother interrupted Her discourses in response to a tormented soul. This is perhaps the reason why Her discourses sometimes appeared to be a series of unconnected remarks. I now fancy that Her talks are a sally of the universal mind in the volley of innumerable questions of troubled spirits. But at that moment, I thought no further about it. Occasionally, I used to attend Her discourses for a short time and go away. I also had seen Her often in samadhi radiating ineffable peace. Yet, so dense was the fog that surrounded my mind, that they left no lasting impression on me.

More by accident than by design, I visited Mother's home in Mangalore towards the close of 1955. some devotees and disciples had also come the same day. All those who came to see Mother stayed under Her hospitable roof. Still a stranger, to Mother's ways, I was amazed when we were all received and treated like children coming to see their mother on a holiday. I saw something new, something more loftier than a Mother's love; a love with no trace of expectation of return. I felt the presence of divine love in its purest form.

PEARLS FROM MOTHER'S LIPS

1. World is not opposed to paramartha, but worldliness is. You should be in the world, but not of it.

2. The worldly man, addicted to worldliness, goes after appearances and is caught up in a network of illusions; but in paramartha, the essence is kept in view, not the externals. The essence is the Real, the changeless.

3. Anything may happen in life. But nothing should deflect you from your mental steadiness and equipoise. Nothing should shake your faith in your own Self and trust in Guru's Teaching.

DURGA POOJA IN JAKARTA

Every year the Jakarta Bengali Association (JABA) organizes Durgapuja. The sincerity, dedication and devotion that go behind those five days are just unparalleled. The action starts with printing the invitation cards and collecting the list of requirements from the priest who is specially flown in from Kolkata for the occasion.

One cannot imagine the hectic schedules the members go through during this time but they make sure that none of the aspects are diluted – starting from puja details, food, entertainment, etc. Also worth mentioning is that the members celebrate the Puja as per the “bengali tithi” and not at some convenient weekend. “Mayer bhog and pujor misti” – they are all prepared by the ladies at home. Given a choice, all JABA members likes to celebrate puja at Jakarta than at Bengal – its become an integral part of family and life out here.

After Durgapuja they celebrate ‘Bijoya Sammeloni’. One more round of hectic schedules, rehearsals and practices. The participation in most cases involves the full family. This celebration is followed by Kojagari Lakshmi puja and it follows and it is also celebrated with equal pomp
